

Mr. and Mrs. A's Backstory

Having their own medical practice and two young children who were busy with extra curricular activities didn't leave this professional couple much time for selecting furniture to outfit their newly renovated living space.

Making the decision to remodel rather than to move to a larger home wasn't that difficult for this family. With their practice only 10 minutes from their home, renovating was the logical choice. They added a significant amount of square footage to their kitchen, eating area and living room. By adding a back entrance, mud room, half bath and stone patio area it transformed the most frequented areas of the home into a more enjoyable living space.

Superior quality furnishings that had a timeless appeal were high on the priority list when it came time for these purchases. Their desire was to choose substantial and well built furniture that would see them through their children's school years. Entertaining friends during weekly bridge games and having frequent visits from extended family members dictated the space be livable, durable and comfortable while still maintaining a sophisticated style.

By using high grade leathers and upholstery fabrics, meeting the needs of durability was easily accomplished. The game table, which would also double as a homework area, required great craftsmanship and a tough but beautiful finish. The Nichols and Stone Company was the premium choice for this table as they offer a proprietary finish that resists water, scratches, fading and is constructed of solid wood, not a veneer. This nearly century old company has been making heirloom quality furniture in the United States that has stood the test of time. Distinction Leather and Miles Talbott Furniture provided the comfortable seating in the living areas with recliners and sofas.

Quality crafted furnishings by reputable companies provide the backdrop for this family's daily activities. This space is now an inviting, comfortable and stylish area that they use more than any other area in the house.
